AGREEMENT FOR PARTICIPATION

Photographs of students and their creative work are sometimes taken by The "X" Main Street Corporation (and its project, the Bing Arts Center) herein referred to as XMSC, for publicity purposes. XMSC requests that each person registering for a class submit a signed release form. Registrations submitted without this signed consent will not be honored. I hereby grant XMSC and its employees the right to photograph the student and to use pictures, silhouettes, and other reproductions of the student's physical likeness, as well as reproductions of artistic and written works created by the student during organization-sponsored activities. Reproductions may include, but are not limited to, the use of still camera photographs in connection with publication exhibition, and/or publicity for XMSC. No payment is to be made to the student for the rights granted above. I grant permission in consideration of the student's admission to this program, and I understand that it is legally binding.

Let's Dance!

Monday - Friday, July 12 - 16, 2010
1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.
Ages 8 - 12
$55 per student plus
$15 registration fee

The course will cover four different genres of dance including Jazz, Ballet, Modern and Hip Hop. Students will focus on a different genre each day and then present a brief recital for parents, family and friends on the final day.

Classes will emphasize flexibility, strength, coordination and body awareness to allow freedom of expression. It is a great way for students to release tensions and frustrations and to feel creative.

About the Instructor

Gina Emanuel-Satchell teaches the Lester Horton Technique of modern dance. She will be assisted by additional teachers Kashana Sharif, Meysha Woods and Robert Blakley.

Recipe for a Storybook

Saturdays, July 17 - August 21, 2010
10:30 a.m. to noon
Ages 8 - 12
$75 per student plus
$15 registration fee

Students will create sequential art in the form of a story/picture book by writing a story and illustrating it. Character creation, styles, theme and genres will be emphasized. Students will focus on pencil, colored pencil, marker and various other drawing materials.

An exhibit of the students' work will be presented in the Bing Arts Center after the course is completed. It will be open to the public (in addition to family and friends, of course). Showcasing their work in a gallery setting will provide the young artists with valuable experience and an insight into the fascinating process of creating and exhibiting art!

About the Instructor

Merrilee Aurora Hale is a freelance graphic designer, licensed art teacher in Massachusetts and the social media marketing director for the Bing Arts Center.

Let's Make a Movie! Motion Picture Production for Kids

Monday - Friday, July 19 - 23, 2010
9 a.m. to noon
Ages 8 - 12
$125 per student plus
$15 registration fee

The course will be divided into pre-production, production, and post-production. Each class will be presented as a hands-on workshop. The students will be organized as a film crew and will work as a team to produce a six to eight minute movie. They will fill the roles of camera-person, audio engineer, production designer, hair and makeup artist, and actors.

The crew will use professional video and film equipment including a prosumer camera, a complete light kit, and wireless microphones. The completed work will be shown to family, friends, and the public in a special premiere event at the Bing Arts Center, complete with popcorn. Each student will also receive a DVD on Premiere Night.

About the Instructor

Local film-maker and screenwriter Marty Langford has been making motion pictures since he was 14, when he shot a stop-motion action film starring action figures. He is a principal in viz-bang!, an online video and social media company.
